The Tube Rose Not a Rose. The common tube rose is an excelleut illustration of a popular misnomer. The plant is not a rose at all and has no connection with the rose family. Its name is a corruption. The French gardeners always call it plant inbereuse, or tuber plant, and the latter part of the name was corrupted by ignorant persons into tube rose. The similarity of sound, no doubt, led to the change of name and consequent mistake, similar instances having often occurred.

eighty-five to a gentleman of eightytwo." "Lighty two, sir!" ech ed the earl, slightly lifting his hat to Mr. Levien; "I'il run you round the square for a fiver." Some days afterward, Mr. Levien called on the writer again, and remarked slowly and with much solemnity: "I've been thinking a great
